Old Land of our Fathers - Anthem of Cornwall

Old land of our fathers, your children love you!
Dear land of the west, what country is your equal?
Across the whole world, we are spread far and wide,
But our love is for you.

Cornwall! Cornwall, we love Cornwall!
As long as the sea may be as a wall around you,

We are one and all for Cornwall!

Kingdom of King Arthur, ancient saints and the Grail,
No other land is more beloved by us;
In you every tor, valley, mountain and house
Speaks to us in Cornish.

Cornwall! Cornwall, we love Cornwall!

As long as the sea may be as a wall around you,
We are one and all for Cornwall!

In the darkness of the mine and on the waves of the sea,
When we are wandering through overseas lands
In whatever place, and in however many countries,
May we turn our hearts to you.

Cornwall! Cornwall, we love Cornwall!

As long as the sea may be as a wall around you,
We are one and all for Cornwall!

The anthem is sung to the tune of “Hen Wlad Fy Nhadau”, the Welsh National Anthem and also “Bro Goz ma Zadoù”, the Breton National Anthem
