ALL HANDS

This week is our Area Managers Inspection (AMI). We will be focusing solely on this event for the majority of the week. Cadets, focus on studying general knowledge, shining shoes and belt buckles, and don't forget your uniforms should be dry-cleaned. Come looking your best on Thursday and ready to welcome CDR Shaw to our unit. Invite your parents and any other family members to attend. You have worked hard, let's show them what Hillgrove NJROTC is all about.

Key Personnel practice starts on Monday, and we will be having our full-unit practice during 1st block on Tuesday. Everyone will get a pass from LCDR to head down to the gym at 0855.

CURRENT EVENT OF THE WEEK

A Los Angeles neighborhood outside the nation's busiest port complex has become a perpetual traffic jam, with trucks that are hauling cargo containers backed up as workers try to break through an unprecedented backlog of ships waiting to unload. About 40% of all shipping containers entering the U.S. come through the Los Angeles and Long Beach ports. The logjam of ships has interrupted the global supply chain and last week prompted the President Biden to allow the port complex to operate 24 hours a day.

QUOTE OF THE WEEK

"Everything that irritates us about others can lead us to an understanding of ourselves." – Carl Jung

LEADERSHIP QUALITY OF THE WEEK

Self-awareness- conscious knowledge of one's own character, feelings, motives, and desires.

Unit Goal Update
