President Jan's Weekly Words ...

President's News

First of all I extend a huge thank you to Jean for taking over the reins for a couple of weeks. I knew the club would be in good hands.

Last Tuesday was a fantastic night with the winners of the public speaking competition performing their speech in front of Rotarians, teachers and families. I think we were all in awe of the confidence, and content of the speeches they delivered. It is hard to believe they are only year 6 students. I only hope that these three children will continue with their public speaking in the future. A big thank you to Helen for organising the night and inviting the teachers and principal from St. Bernadette's Primary School. It was lovely to see past member Trish Brown along with her husband Bill, It would be lovely to see you both again soon.

This has been our last weekend selling trifecta tickets and I truly hope that we managed to sell all of the tickets. I am aware that it is not the most favourite pastime for many of us, but it is our main source of income for this half of the year. If we do not have the fundraising, then we are unable to give money to the projects and charities that we want to support.

We have an opportunity to showcase our Rotary Club at International Volunteer's Day at Living Choice, Glenhaven on Thursday 5th December. We shall have a stall at no charge in the auditorium and the event will be advertised to the local community, and our local politicians will be present.

A DCaf (Dementia Cafe) is commencing at Galston Community Health Centre from next week, and we have been invited as a local Rotary Club to be involved. This is a weekly meeting designed to give a small group of people living with dementia and their family carers and opportunity outside of their home to socialise, relax and discover ways to live well with dementia.

Next week we are going to Warrah to have an escorted walk around the grounds. We are looking at a potential project there and all will be revealed during the evening. Thanks Annette and Marie for organising the vocational visit.

Tonight Jo & Annette have arranged some fun to celebrate Melbourne Cup Day, so enjoy and relax after all your efforts in selling the tickets over the last couple of weeks.

Till next time

Jan Duffy
