Parish news for the united benefice of Cranford, Graf ton
Underwood, Twywell and Slipton

October - November 2019

Letter ...

Dear friends,

As the interregnum period continues and the benefice awaits a new incumbent so much of the organising and planning has fallen on the laps of the church wardens. We owe a huge debt of thanks to them for keeping the schedule of services going and finding able leaders and speakers for the various services and events in our churches.

Many of you will have made summer trips and seen new places and faces or been back to old, familiar, haunts. We thank God for journeying mercies and for the enjoyment of seeing the amazing beauty of His wonderful creation in other settings.

But, as they say, "There's no place like home," so let us not forget to thank the Lord for the beautiful area where He has placed us. We are thankful too for family and friends, for fields and farms, and for the many blessings we enjoy right here.

The harvest is in and that is always a reminder of the wonderful cycle of planting and reaping, rain and sunshine, that God has built into how our planet Earth works.

As the days shorten, let us look forward to the beautiful autumn colours and keep the spirit of thankfulness and joy going.

May God bless you all.

best wishes,

Vernon Forbes

The cross stands still while the world turns

In the opening scene of The Unseen, a novel by Norwegian author Roy Jacobsen – shortlisted for the Man Booker International Prize 2017 – the local minister, Pastor Johannes Malmberget, is rowed across to a remote island called Barroy. After a difficult two-hour journey, he scrambles ashore – thankful to still be alive, teeters along the landing stage and then “catches sight of something he has never seen before, his home on the main island the way it looks from Barroy”.

This summer, we have been celebrating the 50th anniversary of the Apollo 11 space mission – the excitement of Neil Armstrong’s small step/giant leap on 20th July 1969 as he and Buzz Aldrin became the first human beings to land on the moon. It’s been good to remember the often-forgotten third astronaut, Michael Collins, who remained in lunar orbit and was on the far side of the moon when his colleagues took those famous steps.

All three astronauts shared one particularly special moment, the first sight of something never seen before – the earth the way it looks from the moon. When the astronauts first saw the earthrise, they were struck by how the predominant colour was not green, but blue, as two-thirds of the earth’s surface is sea (indeed, once a day almost all you can see from space is the Pacific Ocean). This was also very clear from the astonishing artwork on display in the Cathedral recently. ‘Gaia’ by artist Luke Jerram is a seven metre diameter globe, suspended in space. It features detailed NASA imagery of the earth’s surface taken from space, and turns completely every four minutes.

When I saw it in the Cathedral, I thought it looked beautiful and fragile. It filled me with wonder and a feeling of protectiveness. I was reminded that the biggest crisis facing our nation (even more important than Brexit) is the ecological catastrophe that scientists are trying to engage us in addressing.

I was also struck by the astonishing view from the Cathedral Nave of ‘Gaia’ behind the equally beautiful hanging cross. Frank Roper’s 1975 depiction of the crucifixion is 15 feet high, weighs more than half a ton and represents Jesus’ suffering and his watching over the Cathedral. It carries the Latin inscription “Stat Crux Dum Volvitur Orbis” – “the cross stands still while the world turns”.

In this time of great uncertainty, it’s good to be still and recall that God shares our lives and watches over us.

God bless,

+John, Bishop of Brixworth

St John's Church

The schools are now back after the summer holidays, but the first news item takes us back to mid-July before the schools broke up. We were delighted to be given the opportunity to strengthen the link between the village's C of E primary school and St John's church through the Acting Head, Richard Albert, inviting the church to present a bible teach of the 16 pupils who, in July, were leaving to move on to secondary schools. Having quickly decided to take up the invitation to present 'bibles', we then had to decide which 'bible'. We didn't want it to be so big and forbidding a tome that it would sit on a bookshelf and rarely, if ever, be opened and read. We wanted it to be a book that children of that age would read and be inspired by its stories. After consulting widely, we decided on 'Diary of a Disciple - Luke's story'. These were presented at the end of term leavers' service on 24th July, where we expressed the wish that the leavers would benefit from the guidance provided by the stories in their conduct in their new schools and in their lives beyond. Although we have, of course, always been pleased to make the church available for services to celebrate festivals and at end of terms, we have plans in hand to enhance that co-operation still further.

The Northamptonshire Historic Churches Trust 'Ride and Stride' on 14th September will have happened by the time you read this. Both St John's and St Andrew's churches were open, St John's being manned to log in riders and striders and offer refreshment, and St Andrews open for self-registration. Cranford's usual strider participant is hoping to 'bag' his usual 15 churches and intends to leave his sponsorship form available for late sponsors till after this issue of Together comes through your letterbox.

Although St John's Harvest Festival services will have taken place by the time this issue is distributed, the harvest supper and auction of produce will not take place until Saturday 5th October. We hope to see you there!

Churchyard working parties met in late August, aiming to enhance the work of the usual mowing and border maintenance teams. A small, but very purposeful, group concentrated on cutting down elders and removing vegetation from church and churchyard walls as well as additional strimming around walls and memorial stones.

One other note on the churchyard; we have only recently been made aware that there is one memorial in the churchyard which comes under the care of the Commonwealth War Graves Commission. This is the grave of William Bailey who died on 14th October 1915. His widow, Florence Eliza, who died on 24th August 1949, is buried in the same grave. The grave is situated in the south-west quarter of the churchyard and has recently been made more visible by the removal of elders growing up through the neighbouring trees.

On the afternoon of Saturday 7th September St John's church was full to capacity (approximately 250) for the memorial service for Bob Stonebridge following a private graveside burial service in the morning. The congregation had been asked to wear clothing item reminiscent of the psychedelic fashion of the 1960s and most obliged. The service, led by the Reverend Graham Bell with contributions from Jon and Annie plus items from Bob's fellow musicians, was a moving and memorable tribute to a man and his family, much loved in the community. In remembering Bob (and Jane) we would do well to ponder on the words printed in the order of service and inscribed on the headstone of BB's grave in Cranford churchyard:

‘The wonder of the world, the beauty and the power, the shapes of things, their colours, lights and shades; these things I saw
Look ye also while life lasts.’

The Cranford and District Over 60s

On 30th July John Stanyard gave a most interesting talk entitled ‘Under Two Flags in World War One’. There was no meeting in August. On 29th October we are having a Cream Tea and Member Entertainment. This meeting begins at 1.30pm. November sees the return of Richard's Kitchen. This meeting begins at 1.00pm.

For further details please contact Doreen Mayes on 01832 733961. All meetings are held in the Village Hall in Grafton Road. Margaret Keevil

Cranford WI

By the time you read this our September meeting will have passed and so will the Coffee Morning we are holding in the Village Hall for Bowel Cancer in memory of Bob Stonebridge.

On 10th October we are holding the AGM and Harvest auction. This is always a lively meeting with members being very generous with their money.

Christmas will be upon us before we know and with that in mind, at the November meeting, Mary Gordon will show members how to make a Christmas wreath. Jenny Potter

The Village Hall

Very glad to confirm the projects planned for this Summer are all complete, with the new shutter separating the kitchen from the hall; the windows replaced by energy saving, low maintenance alternatives and the old chipboard soffits replaced. The dishwasher is also installed and the kitchen subsequently redecorated. We are sure these improvements will be appreciated and enhance the hall as a venue for future hirings.

We plan to install splashbacks shortly, to protect the decoration.

We are planning a Quiz Night on 26th October, so keep the date free and further information will follow.

We are in discussion about plans for hall improvements with KBC and will report on developments as they occur.

As part of this we will be modifying the stage, to give better access to the storeroom, which will then provide accessible accommodation for the chairs, currently stored on the stage. George Potter

Village Coffee Mornings

Coffee mornings are on 8th and 29th October and on 19th November. These will begin at 10.40am

Please contact me with any forthcoming events to be included in the December 2019 / January 2020 edition by 8th November 2019 at The Dial House, Rectory Hill Cranford NN144AH or email jandg.potter@btconnect.com or phone 01536 330696.

Best wishes

Grafton Underwood News

Firstly, I would like to say a BIG thank you to everyone who helped with the Cream Teas, whether it was making scones, shopping or helping on the Sunday afternoons. We had excellent teams every week and all went very smoothly. Thanks to everyone's hard work and the generosity of a few we made a profit of £1333.60 over the four weeks. Slightly up on last year despite one very wet afternoon.

A good crowd enjoyed the Ukulele Band in July and we hope that the church will be as full for our September concert which will have taken place by the time this goes to print. We were sad that Bob Stonebridge passed away before the concert, but our thanks goes to Brian and Laura for stepping in and working so hard to do such a full and varied programme in memory of Bob and Jane.

Thanks to those who sat in church for the Northamptonshire Historic Churches Trust Ride and Stride to welcome visitors. Unfortunately, we did not have anyone to ride for us this year. Hopefully a keen cyclist will move into the village for next year!

We will be having a Harvest Lunch in church on Sunday 6th October straight after the Family Half Hour Service. We are doing this in aid of Compass Children's Charity at £5 for Adults and £3 for children. We hope that you will join us.

It is shoe-box time yet again and those of you who would like to do a box can get a leaflet from myself, the Bistro or Church. Items for the Wrap and Pack can be brought to me any time or donations for postage. (Please see the Samaritan's Purse article.) We will be packing in the Village Hall from 10am– 12noon on Saturday 19th October. Everyone who would like to help is welcome. Boxes will be collected together at Family Half Hour on Sunday 3rd November when the Archdeacon will bless them. If you cannot make this service, please bring your box to me.

The PCC will meet at the Manor House at 7.30pm on Wednesday 23rd October . I would like to take this opportunity to wish Heather Ives (a PCC member ) well after her nasty fall. We hope that she will be back with us soon!

Plane film shows will be in the village hall at 7.30 pm on Tuesdays 1st October and 5th November.

Jenny Daykin

Village Hall

The Village Hall has successfully hosted cream teas again this year. Jenny Daykin and volunteers did a marvellous job as ever. A big thank you to Helena for making sure that the hall was clean and ready for events and afterwards.

Brunch will have already happened by the time this goes to print, but we hope and look forward to seeing everyone at the Pub Night on Saturday 26th October. A chance for all the village to get together, welcome new residents and catch up with old ones. As ever, thank you for your continued support.

Tracey Ingram and the Committee

Flood warden

Mark Bird's takeover as Flood Warden has been delayed by his hip surgery so I fuff about till his recovery is complete.

Whilst strimming the brook side one uncovered quite a bit of wild mint (lovely smell ) and damn near beheaded a sitting duck! But lovely range of wildflowers this year. The continued drought has for the first time in 40 years dried up the brook at the north end of the village (though I see that the stream in Barnwell is also reduced to a trickle).

Tree warden,

Eighty miles of hedgerow maintenance on the estate used to be within the remit of the forestry department 40 years ago. Now that it has come under someone else's remit for the past few years and stringent cost-cutting means that the hedges have not been cut properly (or at all ). Dutch Elm disease is killing a lot of hedgerow elms. Though I am pleased at how well the limes that I planted all those decades ago are doing.

I spoke to an agronomist working in the fields the other day and mentioned that I had not seen many deer recently. 'Oh,' he said, 'there are hundreds in the fields over towards Brigstock!'

Slipton News

As I write the sun is shining and we are enjoying the hottest August Bank holiday. The farmers are busy bringing in the harvest in this beautiful countryside.

Thanks to Dawn Moreton for conducting our last three evensongs. Dawn is a Street Pastor in Kettering and has enlightened us all on the valuable work that she and her volunteer colleagues do at nights to help make Kettering a safer and more caring place for people who are out on the streets on Saturday nights, proving that there are many ways to show God's love.

Four members of our congregation attended Father Len Viner's funeral in Brigstock. He was 9 months off his 100th birthday and for the last decade of his life he had celebrated Easter Sunday and Christmas Day with us at Slipton. Our thoughts and prayers are with his family.

My Mother who passed away in January, age 92, kept a diary and reading through it I found this entry for Christmas day 2010 and I thought I would share it.

'At Carolines in the wonderful village of Slipton ,opened presents at 9.30, had breakfast and then walked to church 11am. Lovely service by a vicar who was over 90 years old, after church went to a thatched cottage with a post box in its wall, roses in the summer just like a chocolate box, inside was like going into a picture on a Christmas card. The open fire, cards hung on the beams, a polished table set for Christmas dinner. Everyone knows everyone in this village and everyone is so welcoming'.

Our thoughts are with Bruce who recently had to attend hospital following a fall, wishing you a speedy recovery.

Harvest supper arrangements are in full swing (ours is on 22nd September). A big thank you to all the helpers.

Planning permission has been submitted for residential properties to be built on the site of the Samuel Pepys pub, the plans are available for everyone to review . Please visit the East Northants Council website for full details and for the opportunity to add your comments.

Twywell News

Autumn is now fully upon us and the harvest is, once more, safely gathered in with much of the land now cultivated and partly sown with next years crops. Our thoughts now instinctively turn to the main festival of the season, the Harvest Festival, which traditionally gives thanks for the bounty provided by field and garden. This is the feast which closes a season that began with the Lammas Festival at the beginning of August and which sought blessing for the upcoming harvest. Our own Harvest Festival, this year to be held at 6.00pm on 13th October, is a very popular, uplifting family service that follows the Songs of Praise format of alternate hymns and community readings/poems. All are welcome. If you wish to contribute to this service with a reading, or other performance, please contact Margaret Ansell on 01832 731444. Anyone interested in adding to the church decorations of flowers or harvest produce please contact any member of the PCC – details are in the church porch.

Our Harvest Supper, with its fine spread of seasonal fare, and which is also held in the church, follows the Harvest Festival service and is a lovely social event in its own right.

The Remembrance Service this year will be held on Sunday 10th November at 9.15am. Unusually, due to unforeseen circumstances, this year we are privileged to hold a joint service with Slipton. A member of the Slipton community will read the names of the Slipton war dead. The opportunity to reflect on the sacrifices of others, selflessly made on our behalf, is welcomed annually. As with all services, all are welcome.

‘Comings & Goings’

On 2nd August, one of Twywell’s oldest residents passed away. Apart from his years serving in the RAF, Phillip Thomas lived his 83 years in the village he loved. Best know for the success of the building company he founded with his life-long friend Alan Briggs, Thomas & Briggs Ltd - which became the largest employer in the parish and launched many a career - he was a gentle, self-effacing man committed to our community, who served on the Parish Council and wholeheartedly supported many other parish organisations. A countryman who started his working life on the farm of WG Childs & Sons, Phillip was passionate about gardening and he loved nothing more than to share his horticultural successes with his family. He will be sadly missed and our prayers and thoughts are with his friends and family at this sad time.

‘Other news’

Following the re-introduction of the Lammas Service in early August, the ‘Lammas loaf’ was broken up and taken to four extremities of the parish boundary where a short prayer was said at each. This ancient tradition is said to bring good fortune for the coming year and it is our hope that by extending the parameters of the laying of bread to the parish fringes good fortune is parish-wide. The Lammas Service is the first of several long-lost country feasts and festivals that we are hopeful we can resurrect into the calendar year on a regular basis to reconnect us with our rural roots.

The planned ‘Topping Out’ Barn Dance at the Childs’ brothers new barns on Cargo’s field on 21st September unfortunately had to be cancelled due to insufficient ticket sales before the necessary deadline passed. However, the Community Events Team has other events coming up including a repeat of the very successful pumpkin carving competition on 31st October which was so well received last year, and also a bingo night in November (details to be confirmed). We urge you to support these events wherever possible - much time and effort goes in to the planning of what is becoming a regular program of varied community activities.

The popular ‘Twywell Dining Club’ returns to the Old Friar on Wednesday 16th October, at 7.00pm with a Brexit theme! Also, the popular coffee mornings continue monthly. Anyone who may be interested in hosting is asked to contact Margaret Ansell on 01832 731444 for further information. For further information on all of these events, please see ‘More Dates for your Diary’ and the parish notice-boards.

The defibrillator mounting frame is currently under construction to enable its placement on The Green, next to the telephone box. This is very kindly being manufactured and donated to the parish by the Universal Engineering Group at Corby whose forward thinking engineering-related businesses includes defibrillator training and we thank them for this incredibly generous gesture. The notice-board at the top of the village has now been refurbished and re-erected. We thank Wayne Briggs and Thomas & Briggs Ltd for carrying out this much needed work. We now have all three (including one in Woodwell) fully serviceable.

Village pride is very evident with the telephone box library getting a thorough refurbishment and looking resplendent in its new coat of paint, thanks to the efforts of Dale Boyce and team. Also, upon entering the village from either end you cannot fail to notice the superb barrel displays of autumn coloured begonias. Our thanks go to Alan Yates for launching this initiative, and also to those who daily deadhead, feed and water them. Thank you all, along with the work previously done to painting and trimming around the village benches, cutting back hedges on blind corners and maintaining the public areas of grass (verges, greens and churchyard). Your commitment to our environment does not go unnoticed.

Following a request in the June & July edition of Together for material, we were pleased to receive the following reflective poem from Gordon Fox. Sadly, since submitting this poem, Gordon has passed away. A successful entrepreneur in his working life, Gordon, with his late wife Doreen, loved the peace that living in Twywell brought. He will be sadly missed.

Steadily the sun shines on this, another summer's day,
June has gone, as has the bird song, and the farmers' have made their hay.

What a quiet village; no radios or noise,
no whooping antics of happy girls or boys.
There are cats that prowl to catch a bird,
but never a barking dog is heard.
The Church stands gaunt; the bell tower still,
without a ringer to do a peal.
But to go to town one must,
amidst the noise, fumes and dust,
then, come back to peace and sit in the shade,
enjoying the tea and cake, both freshly made.
It's a pleasant way of life for village folk;
no more do we bear the acrid wood smoke.
Oh townies you can have your way,
But in this quaint old village I'm here to stay!

Binding up the Brokenhearted

The Diocese of Peterborough is presenting its first Mental Health Training Day on Saturday 19th October. Entitled 'Binding up the Brokenhearted', the aim of the day is to provide practical advice for local churches to minister more effectively to those with emotional and mental health needs. The guest speaker at the event is Becky Harcourt, a member of New Wine's National Leadership Team. We caught up with Becky recently for a chat.

What is your involvement with mental health within the Church?

Alongside my husband, I lead All Saints, Woodford Wells on the border of London and Essex. We've been involved in church leadership for 27 years and have two children, both of whom are on the autistic spectrum. I, personally, have a particular calling to inner healing, which simply means helping those who are struggling with emotional or mental issues to encounter God's grace and goodness. I feel particularly passionate about this aspect of ministry. Due to the death of three siblings, one of whom died in an accident when I was looking after her, I desperately needed God's grace and goodness to help me deal with the mental and emotional damage I lived with for many years.

Gill Hampton, who will also be speaking, has experienced her own journey with her emotional and mental health which has led her to walk alongside others as they navigate their healing in many contexts. Her story is one of abuse, depression and loss – a feeling of hopelessness that she feared would never end until she met the God of hope who tenderly brought healing and restoration.

Gill is passionate about inner healing and the Church becoming equipped to deal with the increasing rise of mental and emotional health problems, knowing that this can sometimes simply mean involving outside bodies (ie GPs) and being willing to participate in integrated care.

What will your talk at the Diocesan Mental Health Training Day be about?

We'll both be sharing from our stories of how God has met with and restored us as examples of the transformational difference he makes to those of us who are broken and struggling. We will also speak from our experiences of walking alongside others dealing with varying degrees of mental illness.

(Full article is available at <https://www.peterborough-diocese.org.uk/news-and-events/monthly-magazine-resource>)
