UP NEXT

The BAS Leadership Committee is planning a festive holiday dessert party to be combined with the program for our December monthly meeting. This meeting will be one of our fun and informative Critique meetings, which means that the paintings that you bring for participation in the monthly competition will be critiqued by our good friend & local artist, Sherry Vockel. Critiques are very helpful to us all, so if you are having some trouble with a painting or just want to hear a suggestion or two please be sure to bring a painting to share. Also, last but not least, this is the time of year that we award our new Artist of the Year.....who will it be? So come join the fun and enjoy some yummy desserts with coffee, tea and/or some special drink.

Next Committee Meeting will be December 8, 2022, 2:30pm at Sherry's home.

President's Message

Dear Members,

I'm so hoping that many of you can make it to our Holiday Party/December Critique Meeting, it should be lots of fun. Hopefully, if the membership remains strong in the coming year, we will be able to have one of our wonderful, sit-down Holiday Lunch-eons in 2023. I have such fond memories of them & would love the tradition to go on.

Now when I say "If the membership stays strong", I want to take this opportunity to be truthful with you all about that. The BAS Committee often talks about the membership dwindling, and this is for many reasons, such as people moving, no longer driving & most unfortunately passing. So how do we build our membership so that we can keep our wonderful group going. This is where we can all help. Lots of you take painting classes and have classmates that are not BAS members, but would probably enjoy being one. I'm asking that you keep this in mind & tell your fellow classmates about BAS. You can always invite them to come to one of our meetings as a guest, and they can see if they enjoy it or not. Anyone is welcome to come, they just can't participate in the competitions, etc. until they are a member. So, PLEASE remember this whenever you are with fellow artist friends.....wherever you are. Let us try to keep our wonderful Burlingame Art Society going strong for many years to come.

Wishing you & your loved ones all
Happy Holidays!!! Diana

IN LOVING MEMORY

The Burlingame Art Society has lost a dear friend and fellow member. Yukiko Ferguson was a long time member of BAS, continuing to support the group even without participating for some years. Yuki was a wonderful artist, painting in watercolor, always in a very meticulous manner. She loved attending her weekly painting class at the Burlingame Community Center & called her classmates "Her Family". We're told that she was also a master needle worker, excelling in needlepoint & knitting. Yuki's gentle and kind personality was infectious, causing all who crossed paths with her to fall in love. Rest in peace dear Yuki, we will surely miss you.....

MEETING RECAP

Teresa Ruzzo did a wonderful pastel demonstration for us at our November meeting. She explained using hard & soft pastels and how she does her underpainting using water or water-color (usually Payne's Grey) on top of the pastel drawing....an interesting tip. She answered all of our questions with her fun & bubbly personality and also pretty much finished her painting during the meeting.
