There are a host of new concepts that one needs to know about, before moving over to the next part of the CA course. Following are some of the best law books that you can get for CA Foundation: Mercantile Law Study material (ICAI) There is no better book published in the market for mercantile laws, than from the creator of the CA course themselves, i.e. ICAI or the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India. Even though the language of the book can be non-intuitive for newcomers, the kind of concept it seeds into the brain of the students that enter the CA Foundation course, just cannot be argued with. Each chapter will be defined in the best possible manner along with relevant MCQs as well. This book can be availed online only via ICAI's e-commerce book store. Mercantile Law by M.C. In general economics, one will be dealing with both micro and macroeconomics and will learn to know about concepts like elasticity, supply, and demand, pricing, population, banking, interest rates, repo rates, etcetera.
