MEDIA PRESS RELEASE

Senator-At-Large Angel Bolques Jr. Congratulates Winners of the Crucian Christmas Festival Pageant and Celebrates the Success of the First-Ever Kidsville Event

ST. CROIX — Senator-At-Large Angel Bolques Jr. extends heartfelt congratulations to the young victors of the Crucian Christmas Festival Pageant: Duchess Marley Robinson, Duke Khari Newton, and Junior Miss St. Croix Alayah Watley. Their achievements in this vibrant cultural showcase exemplify the talent and spirit of our youth.

The Senator also congratulates and thanks West Gyul and her dedicated team for organizing and successfully conducting the inaugural Kidsville event. This remarkable initiative brought together our community, offering a delightful array of activities, including kid-friendly performances, face painting, and more, thus creating a unique experience for our children and families.

Senator Bolques believes that the success of Kidsville should serve as an inspiration for the other cultural celebrations on the islands of St. Thomas and St. John. This event not only provided a joyful, learning, and safe environment for our young people to socialize during our cultural event, but it also set a pathway for future community-driven initiatives that foster our cultural heritage and unity from the perspective of our youth.

“As we celebrate these achievements, let us recognize the importance of nurturing and investing in our youth, who are the future of our islands. The Senator hopes to see similar initiatives thrive across our territory, strengthening the bonds of our rich and diverse culture.

Once again, congratulations to the pageant winners, and a resounding applause to West Gyul and her team for making Kidsville a spectacular reality.”
