

Cycles-Trader Introduction

Alon Avramson, Founder

July 2020

Welcome

- Hello and welcome to cycles-trader, the most advanced Artificial-Intelligence Harmonic-Cycles trend forecast
- Cycles-Trader Founded by Alon Avramson
- With the background of Electrical Engineering and Product Management, with 30 years in the Israeli Hitech
- Alon spent 10 years developing the algorithms you are going to see soon

The Challenge

- 100% of the price instruments in the stock market are going up and down in cycles.
- Any trader or investor wish they had a way to know if and specially when their stock is going to go up or down, in advance, so they can be prepared to secure their positions and generate additional profits.

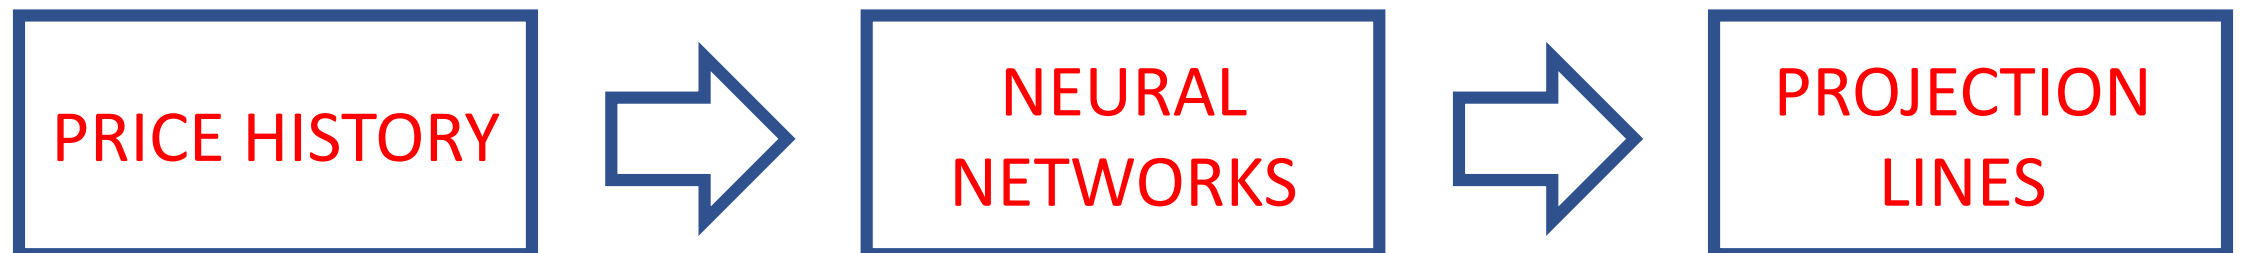

Today's Analysis Solution

- Technical analysis – based strongly on support/resistance lines, channels, indicators, moving averages, which do not provide forecast by themselves but require trader's interpretations.
- Fundamental analysis – looking at a various sets of economic ratios of the company, selected by the analyst, plus a personal estimation if the company is “good” or “bad”
- The two methods focus on the current momentary situation and rely heavily on the analyst's experience. They also require constant scanning of the market for new opportunities.

The Forecast Algorithm – How It Works?

- Our proprietary algorithm analyze the cycles in the price history, determines what were the dominant harmonic cycles and which of them are still relevant
- The process involves a strong Artificial-Intelligence engine in the form of Neural-Networks
- The creation of the projection lines is based on the selected cycles
- No news, no fundamentals, no charting is required.

Cycles-Trader's Solution – Forecast Algorithm

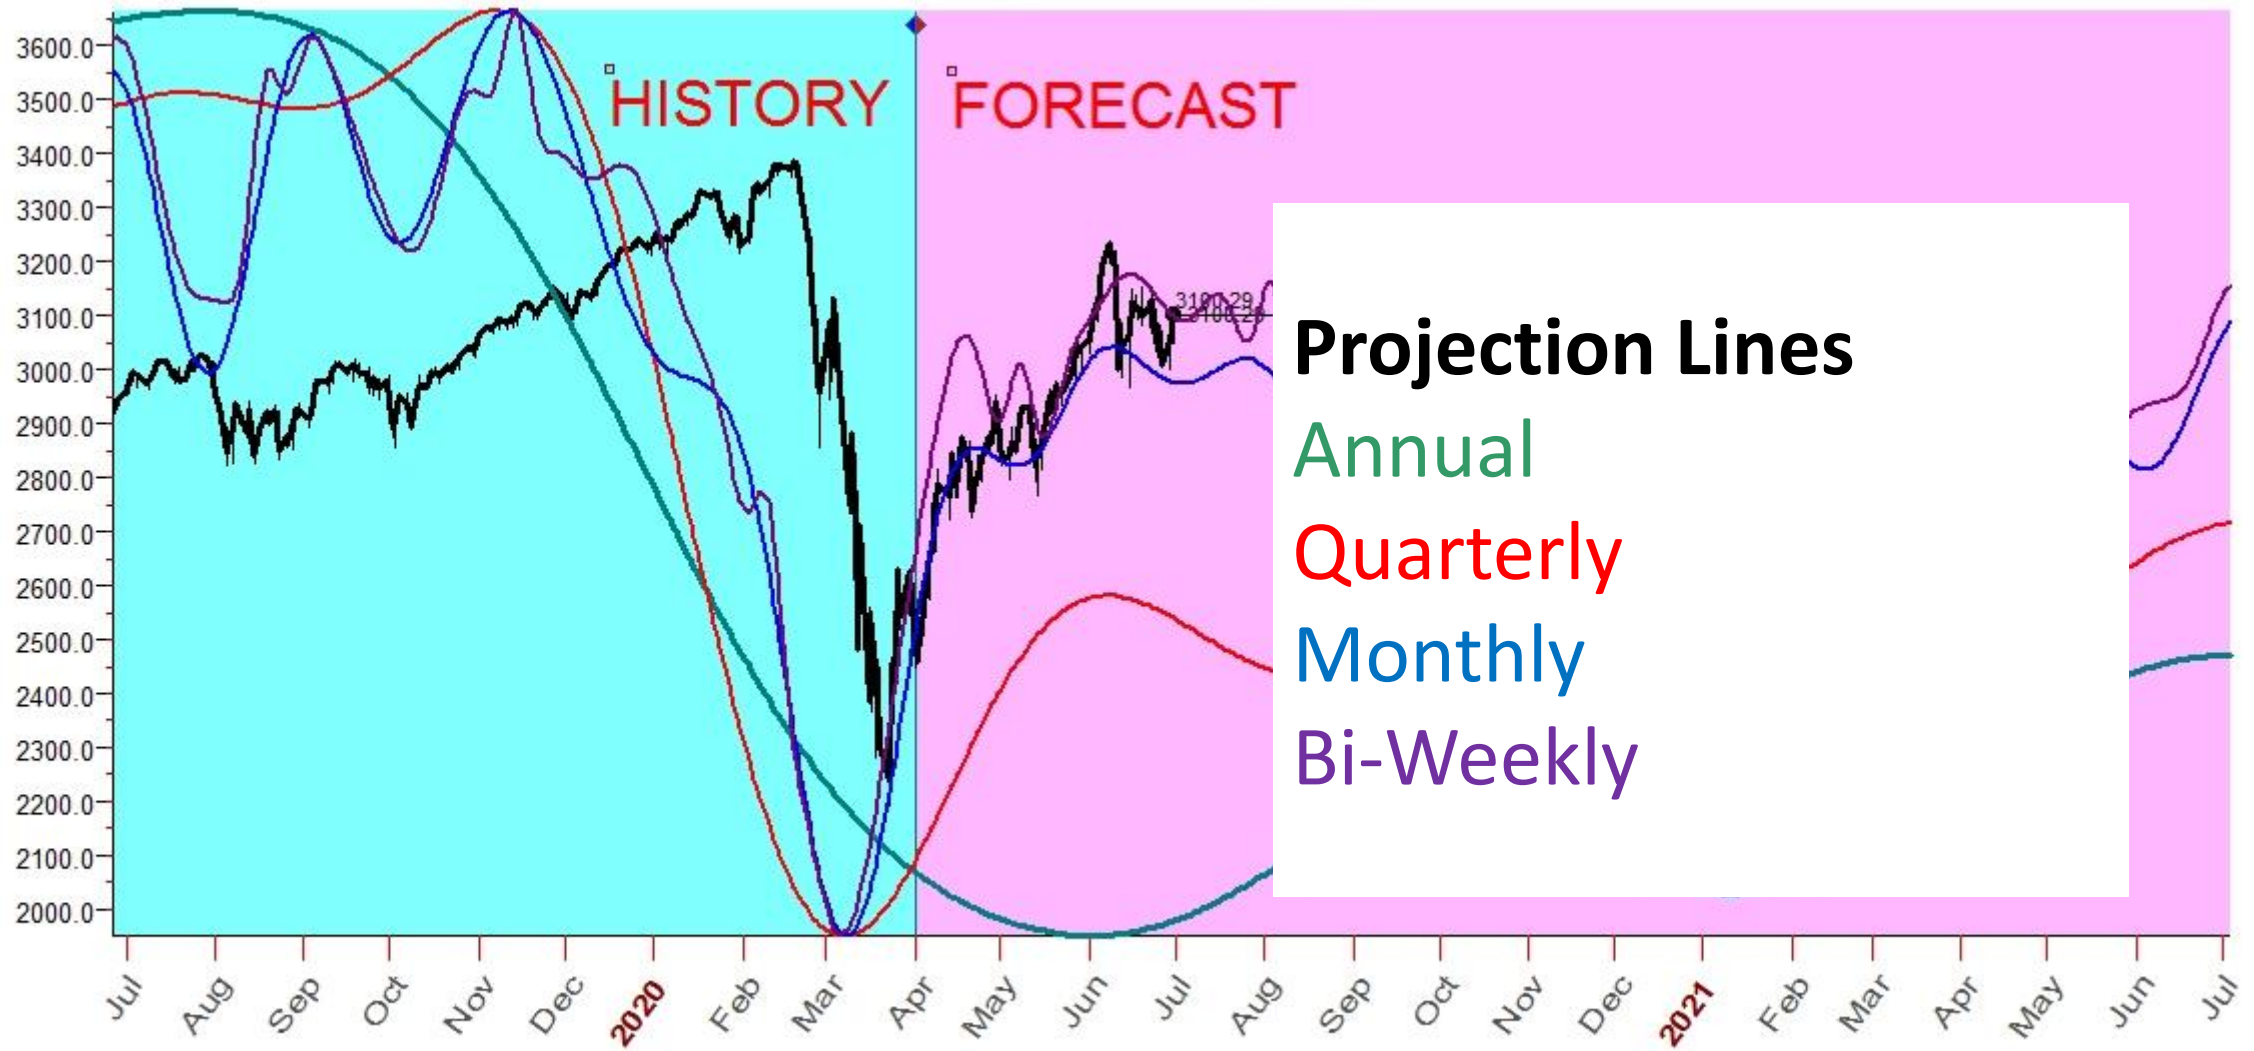

- Cycles Trader offers a trend and change-in-trend (CIT) forecast for any stock/commodity/forex as long as they:
 - Are well traded
 - Have at least 4 years of qualified price history
- The future projection lines correlate with several time periods, together they form a complete set of long, medium, and short triggering system:
 - Annual/Quarterly/Monthly/Bi-Weekly/Weekly
- Every forecast is unique, for the price instrument selected by the customer , for the specific horizon selected by the customer.

How Good and Innovative is this Algo?

- This is an amazing tool, ever seen before in the public use
- No news, no fundamentals, no technical analysis involved
- Typical accuracy is a weekly cycle (1-3 days) , 1 week in 6 months
- Tested with thousands of stocks over a few years period
- A Trader Friendly solution

Set expectations, not 100% accuracy

- This is a decision making assistant tool for swing traders and investors
- Not an algo-trading system, does not provide buy/sell signals
- Typical accuracy for CIT is 1-3 day, not suitable for intraday trading
- Provide Trend and Change-In-Trend, no price levels provided
- The visual Integration of 5 projection lines may require a learning period
- In rare occasions the projection Lines may be inverted due to the nature of Neural-Networks mathematics, in these rare cases timing may still be correct
- Traders must know and use risk management methods and position sizing to reduce risks
- An early notification may sometimes create the urge to act immediately

Advantages

- With the mentioned limitations, this is still a fantastic way to:
 - Become an active trader
 - Plan your entries in advance, to the right moment
 - Trade with confidence
 - Plan your exits in advance, take much longer positions than ever
 - Focus on a fewer but winning price instruments, create a winning portfolio in advance
- Investor - add a winning confirmation tool to your fundamental analysis
