CONTINGENCY FEE AGREEMENT

IN THIS AGREEMENT, the undersigned, hereinafter designated as "Client(s)," does retain

, hereinafter designated as "Attorney/s," to represent him/her in a claim for damages arising from

The terms of this Agreement are as follows:

1. Attorney shall be paid 33% of the total amount recovered, i.e., before payment of any outstanding medical bills and/or expenses (accident report, in-house photocopying, faxes, photographs and courier charges are included in the 33%). Once suit is filed or arbitration or mediation is agreed upon, Attorney shall be entitled to 35% of the total amount recovered. If case is appealed, Attorney shall be entitled to 37% of the total amount recovered.

2. If Client agrees to payment of settlement over a period of time, Attorney shall be entitled to payment in full at time of settlement.

3. (a) In addition to the fees listed above, the Client is liable to Attorney at the conclusion of the claim for all reasonable expenses. Expenses are defined as expenses of handling case and include, but are not limited to: medical reports, records, court filing fees/costs, service fees, expert witness fees, deposition costs and, arbitration/mediation fees, etc. Expenses are deducted from Client's portion of any settlement, verdict, or arbitration/mediation award, after deduction of attorney fees provided for in paragraphs (1) and (4). Authority is given to Attorney to incur expenses necessary to adequately pursue the claim. If no recovery is obtained, all reimbursements for expenses will be waived. (b) Client is responsible for all medical bills he/she incurs. Client agrees that medical bills outstanding at the time of settlement shall be deducted from Client's portion of the settlement and paid directly to the medical provider by Attorney for

4. If Attorney helps Client collect no-fault benefits (PIP), including medical, lost wages and/or loss of household services benefits, Attorney shall be entitled to one-third of such amounts collected. A contingent fee will not be charged for the routine filing and recovery of undisputed PIP benefits. However, if PIP benefits are disputed or remain unpaid after a reasonable period of time and Client desires Attorney to help collect them, Attorney shall help collect PIP benefits and shall charge a one-third contingent fee for collecting same.

5. If other Attorneys are retained, all counsel shall share the attorney fee based on the amount of time (a good faith estimate of Attorney's time shall be adequate), risk, expenses and contribution to results of the case. Attorney shall have the right to retain or associate other attorneys as Attorney deems appropriate.

6. To protect the Attorney's rights to be paid, Attorney shall have a right to any proceeds generated as a result of his representation of Client. This agreement gives Attorney a lien upon Client's claim(s), cause of action or counter claim.

7. (a) If this case goes to trial and Client is not happy with the result, Attorney is not obligated to represent Client in any appeal. (b) If Client and Attorney disagree on anything in this Agreement,

The payment agreement will be reflected at the time or on the payment account received by the service provider, and if this amount is paid in advance, at the time of completion or completion or the job when the job is advertised. It can also specify what work is acceptable and how disputes will be allowed, how and when the contract can be terminated, and other information.
