

Advancing VdTMoCA knowledge: Application to practice series

In response to many requests from VdTMoCA-informed clinicians, ICAN proudly presents a series of diagnosis-specific and case-based teaching sessions with expert South African VdTMoCA Occupational Therapists.

Three sessions of live Zoom-based teaching with reference to a given case. Active participation in the sessions is sought to enable clinicians to engage their clinical reasoning skills.

£240

Each event is limited to 6 places.

Application form required.

Closing dates apply (see next page)

Applying the VdTMoCA to autistic children and adults

via ZOOM

13.45-16.00 on Friday 10, 17 & 24 May 2024

Learning outcomes:

- Describe the trajectory of creative ability across the lifespan for autistic children and adults
- Explain how creative ability can be used to enhance activity participation
- Describe how to combine Sensory Integration theory and theory of creative ability
- Explain how creative ability is a moderator of anxiety

A client case is provided in support of teaching and learning.

Applying the VdTMoCA to personality traits and disorders

via ZOOM

13.45-16.00 on Friday 12, 19, 26 July 2024

Learning outcomes:

- Identify Cluster B and C personality disorders
- Describe approaches to occupational therapy assessment for individuals with a Cluster B personality disorder
- Explain how to use the VdTMoCA principles to enhance activity participation in structured therapy sessions (assessment and intervention)

A client case is provided in support of teaching and learning.

Applying the VdTMoCA to understanding occupational therapy for individuals with substance use disorders

via ZOOM

13.45-16.00 on Friday 30 Aug, 6, 13 Sept 2024

Learning outcomes:

- Gain insight into the profiles of inpatients with substance use disorders
- Describe the recovery process for inpatients with substance use disorders
- Describe approaches to programme design for inpatients with substance use disorders

A client case is provided in support of teaching and learning.

The sessions aim to increase theoretical knowledge of creative ability and its application to practice.

Participants must be fully VdTMoCA trained either through ICAN or Pre-registration OT training in South Africa plus practice experience (attending introductions or lectures on the VdTMoCA is insufficient). If you have received equivalent training and wish to make a case for being considered for the sessions, you are welcome to make an application.

It is desirable but not essential to have a minimum of 12 months experience of routinely applying the VdTMoCA to everyday Occupational Therapy practice, and to be currently working with clients experiencing the session's focused diagnosis/problems.

By booking and logging into the session, the participant grants permission for the session to be recorded and for recordings to be made available for future training via the ICAN online training platform.

Participants do not have the right to access recorded sessions, only to attend live sessions.

Participants must ensure they can access Zoom via a PC with good internet connection (a SMART phone is not adequate), and a working microphone and camera.

By applying, you are agreeing to pay for a place at your selected event. Places will only be allocated to funded applications, either employee or self-funded, therefore do not apply unless funding is secured.

Please note the closing dates for applications below.

Applying the VdTMoCA to autistic children and adults.

Closing date for applications 19 April 2024.

Applying the VdTMoCA to personality traits and disorders.

Closing date for applications 17 May 2024.

Applying the VdTMoCA to understanding occupational therapy for individuals with substance use disorders.

Closing date for applications 12 July 2024.

To apply, please email wendy@ican-uk.com attaching a completed application form which is downloadable at www.patreon.com/icancreativity

or

www.ican-uk.com (click on Training & CPD, Field specific focus)

or request an application form from wendy@ican-uk.com